Pre-Conference Tour: Cascade Record Pressing

Cascade Record Pressing, the first large production automated record pressing plant in the Pacific Northwest and Oregon's only vinyl record pressing plant, produces high quality records for discerning artist and labels. The company works with customers to actualize their vinyl visions while being 100% dedicated to quality sounding records that will stand the test of time and use. Cascade Record Pressing is located about 20 minutes southeast of downtown Portland in Milwaukie.

Grace Krause, Project Manager at Cascade Record Pressing, is generously offering a pre-conference tour for a limited number of participants. Learn about all aspects of the record pressing process.
