ARSC Annual Conference

Los Angeles, CA May 11-14, 2011

The Association for Recorded Sound Collections invites proposals for presentations at its 45th annual conference, to be held May 11-14, 2011 in Los Angeles.

ARSC welcomes papers on the preservation and study of sound recordings in all genres of music and speech, in any format, and from any period. The enthusiastic audience will be drawn from our community of collectors, historians, musicians, preservationists, and archivists. We encourage presentations related to recording and music-making in the West, but the program committee invites program proposals dealing with all aspects of the study and preservation of sound recordings – in all genres of music and speech, in all formats, and from all periods. Is there an artist, label, or other aspect of the industry you've been working on? Preservation, archives management, or research technique that might be of interest to others? We seek papers and panels that are informative, display a passion for their subjects, and include compelling audio and visual content. Share your special interests with our engaged community of collectors, historians, musicians, preservationists, and archivists.

The deadline for presentation proposals is January 3, 2011. Receipt will be acknowledged by e-mail, and presenters will be notified of acceptance approximately one month thereafter.

Wi-fi access is unfortunately not available in meeting rooms due to the high charge for this service by the hotel. In any event, given the unreliability of live connections we encourage the use of screen shots instead.

IMPORTANT: Presenters must register for the conference. Presenters grant ARSC the right to record and distribute their conference presentations, unless they specify otherwise in writing. Presenters are encouraged but not required to provide copies of their PowerPoint or other files for distribution with the conference recordings.
