ARSC's Mentoring Program

Is this your first conference?

Sign up for your personal mentor!

ARSC's board of directors will personally welcome you at its Mentoring & Newcomer Reception on Wednesday. They'll answer your questions and introduce you to ARSC's greatest asset – its most experienced and accomplished members!

When you register for the conference, mark "This is my first ARSC conference" and note what facets of ARSC interest you the most. Then sign up for a mentor and we'll match your interests to those of an ARSC veteran who can show you around the conference and introduce you to the people you need to know (and who need to know you!).

We look forward to meeting you at the Mentoring & Newcomer Reception.

Are you a conference veteran?

ARSC invites experienced veterans to mentor a new generation of members and leaders.

ARSC's board is asking veterans to take new members and newcomers under their wings at the Bloomington conference. Guide them to the right sessions. Introduce them to the right people. Explain what ARSC does and how things get done. And show through example how to be an active contributor to ARSC.

If you're up to this rewarding task, sign up here. Tell us what you know best. We'll match your expertise to the interests of a newcomer and introduce you at the Mentoring & Newcomer Reception on Wednesday.

Be a mensch – be a mentor.
