National Archives/CBS-KIRO Milo Ryan Phonoarchives

The CBS-KIRO Milo Ryan Phonoarchives at the University of Washington School of Communications is being dissolved. The collection, its contents, records and identity are being transferred to the National Archives in Washington, D.C. and in Seattle.

With the National Archives distribution, materials will be more readily accessible throughout the nation. It is hoped that the transfer will facilitate the educational, scholarly and research service of the collection as well as assure the preservation of the Phonoarchive.

Those interested in use of the materials for educational, scholarship and research purposes should contact one of the following:

BEA HISTORY COMMITTEE

PAPER COMPETITION

This announcement is for the submission of papers for the 1982 BEA Convention. Rigorous and systematic historical papers will be reviewed. Papers will be evaluated on the basis of their contribution to the historical broadcast literature, reasoning, content and style. Professors and graduate students, well into their research, are encouraged to submit papers. It is hoped that this call may stimulate research activity.

A Convention Panel will feature the top papers with the appropriate presentation, critique and discussants.

Interested individuals should submit their entries to:

Donald G. Godfrey
Associate Professor
Department of Radio-Television
University of Arizona
Tucson, Arizona 85721

DEADLINE: Entries must be received no later than January 4, 1982.
