EDITOR'S FAREWELL

This is my last issue of the ARSC Journal. I've had this job for seven years, longer than I ever thought I'd last. And now it's time to give someone else a turn.

I came to the Journal as an editorial novice. I've been lucky to have had good contributors who covered up my mistakes. Together we gave ARSC members as fair and as balanced a product as I could come up with three or so times each year.

My involvement with ARSC won't end with this farewell; there are still too many things to do. I will miss the work and the people I've worked with, some of whom I have yet to meet. The Journal will be in good hands with my successor. I wish him the best of luck--as good as I have enjoyed.
